

Sir David Attenborough

8th May 1926 - Present

- He was born in London, England.
- He is a naturalist, writer and broadcaster.
- He studied natural sciences at the University of Cambridge.
- He is famous for writing and narrating educational television programmes about the natural world.
- He has also had many books published.
- He has over 15 species named after him, including a spider which is just over 1mm long (Prethopalpus Attenboroughi).
- He has been nominated for and won many awards for his work.
- He was knighted in 1985 and received an Order of Merit from the Queen in 2005.
- He is a campaigner for tackling climate change and supports many charities.